Holiday highlights from 2018

$853B

Retail had its largest season ever with eCommerce sales reaching their strongest growth in over a decade at +18.4% YoY.¹

For the first time ever, more than half of the time spent shopping and purchases made occurred online

- 56% of time spent shopping was online²
- 53% of shopper-reported purchases were made online³

According to Forrester, half of US retail sales are now digitally impacted, and they expect that to grow to 58% by 2023.⁴

The shift to mobile was even more dramatic

- 61% of online purchases were made via mobile, +27% YoY⁵
- 60% of consumers shopped via a mobile app⁶

With the rise of mobile and the emergence of new platforms, consumers have changed how they shop. They want to buy from brands that help them discover new things, find what they need and get things with the least amount of friction, all in a personalised and relevant way. It's more important now than ever to lay the digital groundwork early for success during the 2019 Christmas season.

Each day, hundreds of millions of users enter Shopping-related queries on Google

Google is the
#1 driver

of both traffic and transactions volume to retail sites.⁷

70%

of US smartphone users rely on Google before buying something new.⁸

Identify trends and set flexible budgets to capture potential demand

67% of holiday shoppers confess that they still have shopping to do heading into the last week before Christmas.¹¹

86% of people still shopping after Christmas week searched digitally about holiday-related shopping.¹²

Shopping demand remains consistent through the season and into the new year, so make sure that you're setting flexible and sustainable budgets across your campaigns by examining historical data and layering your account's current year-on-year trends.

Capture missed traffic by budgeting more for days where your historical click share decreased, but retail query volume or your competitor's click share increased. You can also check out the Opportunities page in Merchant Center and Recommendations page in Google Ads for more budget opportunities.

Set your marketing goals and develop a robust measurement framework

90% of US holiday shoppers used more than one channel for shopping activities in the previous 2 days.¹³

Last-click attribution no longer provides an accurate picture for today's cross-channel consumer. Establish clear targets to measure your success with a data-driven attribution model that's consistent across Google Ads and Search Ads 360. Include store visits and sales conversions to track the impact of your online ads on offline conversions.

Build your digital storefront (May - August)

of holiday shoppers wished that retailers did a better job of sharing inventory online.¹⁴

81%

of holiday shoppers who used Google were looking for brand and product information.¹⁵

Expand your product assortment with competitive pricing

Understand demand for products that you don't already stock with the product suggestions report and talk to your merchandising team about adding them to your catalog to offer what your customers are looking for. Also check price benchmark metrics to see how price competitive you are against other retailers on Google Ads.

Show your products on platforms across Google

Whether or not you want to advertise, submit your entire inventory in Merchant Center for eligibility to show your products on surfaces across Google. Keep your data fresh by enabling automated feed delivery, the Shopping Content API and/or automated item updates to make frequent updates to fluctuating product prices and availability during the holidays. You can also opt your product data into Shopping ads to start advertising your products on Google.

See more tips on how to optimise your product data in Merchant Center.

Case Study: IKEA

IKEA is a go-to destination for many shoppers looking for well-designed, functional home furnishings at accessible prices. To improve visibility and increase their return-on-ad-spend, the company focused on optimising their product data and implementing Smart Bidding for Shopping ads. As a result, IKEA doubled their sales.

Make it easy for people to find your store locations and inventory

75% of consumers expect retailers to have product availability information displayed online before visiting in store.¹⁶

Set up a Google My Business account to show your most up-to-date store information on Google. Use Local campaigns to specifically optimise for store visits and access exclusive ad inventory on Google Maps. Promote your local inventory with local inventory ads to drive both online and in-store sales by showcasing your products and stores to nearby shoppers searching on Google.

Case Study: Elite SEM & Big 5 Sporting Goods

Performance marketing digital agency Elite SEM partnered with leading sporting goods retailer Big 5 Sporting Goods in the United States to activate local inventory ads and drove a 25% YoY increase on in-store visits after the shipping cutoff date.

Create a frictionless mobile shopping experience

growth on mobile searches for “online shopping” in the past 2 years.¹⁷

A one second delay in mobile load times can impact mobile conversions by up to 20%¹⁸

Mobile has been the catalyst for retail growth. Consumers are using digital to decide where to shop and are increasingly leaning into mobile for purchases. A frictionless experience helps you stand out from the competition and minimise drop-off.

Reduce your mobile load time using tips from Test My Site. Create a positive shopping experience by using autofill forms, avoiding interstitials and placing the product’s price and ‘Add to basket’ button above the fold.

Learn how to build a strong mobile strategy.

Drive discovery of your products and reach new customers (July - September)

48%

of shoppers are open to buying from new retailers during the Christmas season, and in the 2018 Christmas season 30% of them actually did.¹⁹

Build awareness of your brand and products on broader queries

Mobile searches containing the word "brands" have increased by over 80% over the past 2 years.²⁰

Stay in front of potential customers as they start their shopping journey by bidding and highlighting your products on broader search queries. Use Showcase Shopping ads, now available on Google Images, to promote your brand and products earlier in the purchase journey. Show store-specific products, prices, and store information in a highly visual and easy-to-browse ad format with local catalog ads \(LCA\). Opt into Search Partners in your campaign settings to extend your reach across Google's sites and networks.

Case Study: Made.com

UK-based retailer Made.com offers home furniture and accessories. By launching Showcase Shopping ads, they saw more than 59% of their engagements were from new visitors.

MADE®

Use video to inspire, educate, and convert shoppers

More than 90%

of shoppers say that they've discovered new products and brands via YouTube.²¹

More than 40%

of global shoppers say they have purchased products they discovered on YouTube.²²

More than half of shoppers say online video has helped them decide which specific brand or product to buy.²³

Whether it's tagging along on shopping trips with influencers or searching for details about specific products, people turn to YouTube to decide what to buy. No matter where they are in their journey, make sure you're there to meet them with inspiring and helpful content. Upload videos of shop tours, product demos, and seasonal gift recommendations to engage shoppers. Promote your brand or products using TrueView for action, to drive them to your landing page and make a purchase.

Identify your most valuable customers

Find new customers based on who they are, their interests and habits, what they're actively researching or how they've interacted with your business by using audience lists across Search, Display, Shopping, and Video campaigns. You can also show ads to similar audiences who share characteristics with people in your existing remarketing lists.

Case Study: GameStop

As a large video game retailer in the United States, GameStop wanted to find customers who shared traits similar to their existing website visitors. By using similar audiences, the company saw a 30% increase in conversion rates.

GameStop

Make your products discoverable for holiday traffic peaks

More products in the ads auction means that you'll qualify for more impressions and be visible to Christmas shoppers. Check the Opportunities page in Merchant Center to fix top issues and get disapproved products back in the auction long before the Christmas season.

Create a campaign with a Dynamic Search Ad \(DSA\) ad group targeting 'all web pages' or 'landing pages from your standard ad groups' to ensure that your entire inventory is eligible to show in text ads. You can also enable DSA in your campaign settings and add DSA ad group(s) to improve your Search campaign performance. Opt into Search Partners in your campaign settings to extend your reach across Google's sites and networks.

Manage a portfolio of seasonally relevant keywords. Hunt for missing keywords by running a search terms report for last Christmas season to uncover converting queries and potential terms to add. While certain keywords may not have performed well in the past, they may perform better when targeted in conjunction with audiences that have previously visited your site. Test high-volume product keywords (for example: 'Black Friday') on these audiences using the 'Targeting' setting to limit your Search ad group/campaign to people in this audience. Regularly review your negative keywords to make sure that you're not unintentionally restricting your traffic.

Establish your presence when shoppers are searching for your products

Set the right bids to boost your product visibility to shoppers. You can do this automatically by adding your products to a Smart Shopping campaign. Smart Shopping campaigns use machine learning to optimise bids, products, and audiences based on available signals, including seasonal demand and device type, so you can maximise your conversion value for your budget. In early testing, advertisers using Smart Shopping campaigns drove over 20% more conversion value on average, for a similar cost.²⁴

Case Study: Magazines.com

Since 1999, Magazines.com has been the trusted online source for deals and discounts on popular magazine subscriptions. It partnered with Rakuten Marketing to launch Smart Shopping campaigns, which increased Black Friday revenue by 180% YoY.

magazines.com

However, if you do not meet the requirements for, or cannot run Smart Shopping campaigns, you can use Target ROAS Smart Bidding to optimise your bids automatically.

Similar to Smart Shopping campaigns, this bid strategy uses machine learning and available signals, including device type, to maximise your conversion value at a return-on-ad-spend (ROAS).

If these automated solutions are not a fit for your business, you can still take steps to segment your performance and set the right bid adjustment modifiers.

Case Study: Centauro

Centauro is a Brazilian sporting goods retailer with almost 200 store locations. By adopting Target ROAS Smart Bidding, they were able to increase online shopping revenue by 100% on Black Friday.

Expand your global footprint

International online shopping is rapidly growing. Shopping ads are now available in 42+ countries.

Assess your global opportunity by using the Market Finder. Easily promote your products with multiple language support for Shopping ads on Google and configure your shipping settings in Merchant Center to export your products to new countries.

Maximise the relevance of your text ads to reach more customers

Have 3+ ads per ad group with your ad rotation set to “Optimise” to test what resonates with your audience. Set your ad rotation settings to optimise for clicks or conversions. Make sure to align ad copy and images with your promotional calendar, launching ads with the right offers and deadlines.

Drive online and offline sales (October - December)

Be first in mind for your high-value products

Up to 3X the engagement from shoppers seen by shopping ads in the top results on mobile.²⁵

Pay attention to absolute top impression share (ATIS) and click share as a way to understand where you're ranking. A higher ATIS shows that you're getting a larger number of impressions in the top position of search results. Meanwhile, more clicks will drive higher click share compared to your competitors. When both metrics increase, this indicates that your visibility is strong. Increase bids strategically for top products with gaps in ATIS and click share to ensure that your ads show above the competition, especially on mobile where visibility on a small screen matters.

If you're looking to maximise visibility in a specific product category, separate your products into a campaign. Set a lower ROAS target with the Target ROAS bid strategy to continue showing ads for relevant search queries in the best possible position while optimising for your return. If you'd like to maximise visibility without regard to return, you can manually optimise bids or use the Maximise Clicks bid strategy to drive a high ATIS.

Bid to capture high-converting traffic across devices

Make sure that you're not going dark – allocate adequate budgets to capture seasonal traffic surges. If you're not using Smart Bidding, which already factors in seasonal demand, review bids regularly and bid above your competition to capitalise on increasing conversion rates during seasonal peaks. You may also lower your return-on-ad-spend (ROAS) target if you're using a ROAS target with Smart Shopping campaigns or Smart Bidding to bid more aggressively. If you're using the enhanced cost-per-click (ECPC) bid strategy, also focus on adjusting your base bids to stand up to peak competition.

Highlight your unique offers and promotions

Extensions provide a

10–15% average CTR uplift per added extension shown.²⁶

Engage last-minute shoppers and deal-seekers looking for end-of-year sales. Add at least 4 ad extensions and insert countdown timers for sales to boost your text ads. Differentiate your Shopping ads by using sale price annotations and Merchant Promotions.

Seize opportunities to drive nearby customers to your shops

Mobile searches for "where to buy" grew by 85%²⁷

Searches for "shop hours" peak on Christmas eve, the busiest day of the year for this search term.²⁸

Make sure to update your shop hours and create a post through Google My Business if you're holding holiday events or offering special services like gift wrapping.

After last posting dates pass, last-minute shoppers will turn to local shops to find what they need. Increase location bid adjustments around your shops with location extensions across Search, Shopping, Display and YouTube campaigns during times when you expect more foot traffic, such as at the weekends or after last posting dates close to Christmas. To capture even more local opportunities, integrate shop visits into automated Smart Bidding and make sure that you're optimising against a complete picture of online and offline performance.

Turn new customers into repeat customers

77% of shoppers say they regularly or occasionally abandon a basket when shopping online.²⁹

Reconnect with interested shoppers using remarketing lists across your campaigns and re-engage your existing customers using your own first-party data with Customer Match. Leverage ad customisers to adjust your ad text or offer special promotions for specific audience lists, including loyal customers.

Establish a crisis response plan

Be prepared in case trouble arises and confirm holiday on-call contacts. Set up automated rules in Google Ads to monitor low conversion rates and alert you to any potential landing page or website issues.

Conclusion

Christmas can be a hectic time. Use the months before the peak season to build brand awareness and traffic while testing new tactics to find growth opportunities. When the season hits, you'll have a strong foundation to propel your business forward by connecting with more shoppers and driving sales.
